Workshop on “How to Construct a Soak Pit”

REPORT

Date: 12.10.2023

Location: Kishinchand Chellaram Law College, Churchgate, Mumbai.

Number of Participants : 96

Green Club of Kishinchand Chellaram Law College, Mumbai, organised a workshop on “How to Construct a Soak Pit”. This workshop highlighted the construction and importance of soak pits in water conservation. The workshop began with a climate anthem emphasizing the commitment to a greener, safer environment. This was followed by an informative video that provided practical insights into soak pit construction and maintenance. Thereafter Mr. Varun Mani, an SY LLB student, shared his real-life experiences in conserving and preserving various Indian Subcontinent Wild Bear species. This personal touch added a unique dimension to the workshop. The workshop successfully disseminated valuable information and garnered an overwhelmingly positive response, promoting water conservation and environmental awareness within the academic community. The event, held in Chief Justice H K Chainani Moot Court Hall, was attended by 96 participants.
