

Dr. Purnima Joshi, Librarian
M.Sc., M.L.I.Sc., Ph.D.

Dr. Purnima Joshi is the Librarian of K. C. Law College since 2005. She started her career as a Microbiologist and has a Post Graduate degree in Life Sciences. Then she obtained graduate and post graduate degrees in Library & Information Science from University of Mumbai in the year 2002. She has done Ph.D. in Library & Information Science from University of Mumbai on the topic “An Assessment of Implementation of Copyright Laws by University Libraries in India”.

She started her career in Librarianship as a Librarian of an International School. Afterwards, she started working in an Architecture College and then joined K. C. Law College. Well acquainted with all library functions like acquisition, classification, cataloguing, circulation, and serials control and performing administrative and managerial tasks. She has been instrumental in starting the computerisation of the College Library. She has also started innovative library services and has developed a digital library website that is a one-point access to the free and subscribed legal e-resources. At present she is trying to create displays of QR Codes for the online legal resources for quick access.

She has more than ten publications in national and international UGC approved journals. She has attended many national and international seminars, conferences and workshops and has presented more than ten research papers.